OASIS Energy Partners Unveils OASIS TD and OASIS Report Manager at DISTRIBUTECH International 2024

Orlando, Florida - February 21, 2024 - OASIS Energy Partners, a leading provider of innovative data enablement solutions in the energy sector, is excited to announce the launch of two groundbreaking products, OASIS TD and OASIS REPORTS, at DISTRIBUTECH International 2024 in Orlando, Florida.

OASIS TD represents a significant leap forward in project management for transmission and distribution initiatives. This cutting-edge tool combines the capabilities of leading platforms such as Asana and Salesforce to offer cradle-to-grave project enablement. With OASIS TD, managing energy data and visualizing critical information like variances and financial metrics becomes seamless. The tool eliminates the need for external spreadsheets and calculators as it is built on the flexible MS Dynamics Platform and seamlessly integrates with other systems via API's. It empowers utilities to increase productivity, streamline processes and better utilize funds.

"Our goal with OASIS TD is to revolutionize project management in the energy sector," said Brooke Smallwood, CEO at OASIS Energy Partners. "By integrating the power of multiple tools into one comprehensive platform, we are enabling organizations to optimize their processes and drive better results."

In addition to OASIS TD, OASIS Energy Partners is introducing OASIS Reports, a sophisticated reporting tool designed to streamline interactions with public service commissions and other regulatory authorities. With OASIS Reports, utilities can respond to data requests, file annual reports, and fulfill other reporting requirements faster than ever. The system generates accurate and visually appealing reports, eliminating the hassle of manual data compilation and formatting.

"Our reporting system tool is designed to simplify compliance and reporting processes for utilities," said Mark Shaw, Head of Data Management. "With OASIS Reports, organizations can produce comprehensive reports with ease, ensuring compliance and enhancing transparency."

Attendees of DISTRIBUTECH International 2024 can experience OASIS TD and OASIS Reports firsthand at Booth 804A. OASIS Energy Partners is proud to be part of the Initiate Program, showcasing its commitment to innovation and industry leadership.
